Selected Projects

Interactive Media [5]

Interactive Media Installation Series at HESHAN. 2021. This interactive installation series is commissioned by Heshan Town, a small water town located in eastern China, where FONG TSE KA, was born and raised. The local government designed and built a resort village that referred to the story and art of the artist and named it “The Painter’s Ideal Village” to attract visitors worldwide. There is an Innovation Center and exhibition hall, next to the village entrance and the tourist centre, to host public gathering events and exhibitions. In the exhibition hall, the architect planned a permanent interactive wall that serves as a welcoming installation to welcome visitors and aims at promoting the local culture and the local artist - FONG TSE KA’s art to the audience in a modern and entertaining way :: link to web-page.

E-counter. [慧·聚], 11/2020. The E-counter project is an audio-visual & dance performance, a collaborative project among visual artist, musician, dancer and programmer. It was first performed at Shanghai Exhibition Center as the open ceremony of the 10th anniversary of Shanghai city of design. The performer will play a laser Guzheng with the AI powered audio- visual system in duo, dancer’s movements will be captured and transformed to abstract visuals. Dancer and musician will perform with S/HW system in harmony. :: link to web-page.

The City of Love. [爱乐之城], 04/2019 - 05/2019. The city of love is an artificial intelligence powered performance project (April 2019 - Present) and a collaboration among four different organizations at the city of Shanghai, including Tong Ji University, Shanghai Conservatory of Music, Shanghai Institute of Visual Art, and New York University, Shanghai. The performer will play a laser Guzheng with the AI powered audio- visual system in duo. :: link to web-page.

The Spirit of Shanshui. [山水精神], 01/2019. The Spirit of Shanshui is an interactive installation by which the participant moves in front of a Kinect camera and abstract geometries - symbolized mountain and water elements - will bump-up from their head, fall and bounce. This installation utilizes interactive visual simulation for entertainment, and to bring attention to concept of the spirit of Shanshui and encourage the eastern Shanshui painting tradition. :: link to web-page.

Chasing You [追逐], 12/2018 - 01/2019. Chasing You”` is an interactive installation with three individual parts. When audiences walk in front of / around the installation(s), the systems “see” and “track” their faces, and present the faces as a dynamic painting. Each sub-system equip with a face tracking unit to detect human faces and a display unit to present faces in visuals. This installation takes the initiative authority and grants the computer program the right to “chase” human and poses the question: Can machines own principal authority in the human-machine relationship? More details. :: link to web-page.

Interactive Media & Artificial Intelligence Arts [7]

Known Beauty. [不知依是画中人], 08/2019. Known Beauty is a commission project by Tencent Next Idea Program. The idea is to transfer the selfie of a participant to the style of crafts(like ancient Chinese vases) and hide/emerge the result into the original piece. With the technology advancements in AI, we design and build software to bring the culture to live and present it with modern language, so to draw public` interests to the tradition. :: link to web-page.

Fusion Beauty [湖湘画中人], 09/2019 - 12/2019. Fusion Beauty is an alike project as Known Beauty but applies to art-crafts from Hunan Provincial Museum. :: link to web-page.

Distributed Creativity, 11/2019 - Present. Distributed Creativity is an experiment criticize the definition of creativity and how to approach it. The experiment runs as an artist workshop, in which the participants first learn the basics of Artificial Intelligence / machine learning and then driven by a set of guidance and rules to collaborate with other peer participants with the AI's assistance. None individual participant nor the AI or the artist is driving the creative process solely but every of us is complementary. The contributions are distributed, so are the creation and the creative process. :: link to web-page.

Walking Through Shanshui [行走的山水], 01/2019. Walking through Shanshui" is an interactive installation based on AI and is dedicated to providing participants with a similar experience of creating Shanshui as in ancient times with various technologies. This piece seeks to honor the traditions and experiences that capture the graceful movements of travelers in natural spaces to create Shanshui, and attempts to mimic the traveling experience with walking in a room-size installation. :: link to web-page.

ZICHI [子期], 11/2018 - 12/2018. ZICHI is an interactive musical AI. It is a musical intelligence who can "understand" the music from participants and compose new melody to play back with the tone of Guqin. When deep cultural heritage meets rapidly changing forms of art powered by technological advancements, this project is dedicated to building a creative and collaborative AI profile, where AI captivates the imagination to enhance creativity. :: link to web-page.

Theremin [爱琴], 11/2018. Theremin is an artificial intelligence enhanced musical instrument/toy that responds, accompanies and inspires you. The participant will play the musical instrument as regular, the AI will generate new melody to play back in the tone of a theremin. This project is going beyond the novelty of an AI-based performance and homing in how in a world where AI is often seen as a replacement for jobs and production, that AI can accompany, assist, and respond to our creative process. :: link to web-page.

ShanshuiDaDA [达达山水], 06/2018-10/2018. ShanshuiDaDA is an interactive installation that utilizes machine learning algorithm in helping amateur participants realize traditional Chinese Ink Wash Paintings. The audience is invited to sketch a simple line drawing representation of their ideal landscape painting, "ShanshuiDaDA" will generate a Chinese "Shanshui" based the user's input. This project seeks to find AI's role in traditionally human centered areas. By way of challenging the creator's conventional position, the artist poses the questions: Can we collaborate with AI to better facilitate, even enhance human creativity? :: link to web-page.
